

PLAN
of practical classes for sixth year applicants of higher education
on Pediatric Surgery
International faculty
2021 – 2022 year of study
Module 2 “Congenital anomalies in children”

№	TOPICS	Hours
1.	Congenital anomalies responsible for respiratory insufficiency : Malformations of the trachea, bronchi and lungs. Atresia and fistula of the esophagus. Diafragmatic hernia.	2
2.	Congenital anomalies of the gastrointestinal tract responsible for high intestinal obstruction. Anomalies of rotation.	2
3.	Congenital anomalies of the gastrointestinal tract responsible for low intestinal obstruction. Hirschsprung’s Disease. Malformations of the anus and rectum.	2
4.	Anomalies of the anterior abdominal wall: inguinal hernias, umbilical hernias, omphalocele and gastroschisis.	2
5.	Developmental abnormalities of the kidney and urinary tract. Congenital malformations of the urinary collecting system. Anomalies of the male genital organs and uretra.	2
6.	Malformations of the liver and bile ducts. Biliary atresia.	2
7.	Anomalies of the musculoskeletal system	2
8.	FINAL CLASS. CONTROL TESTS.	2
9.	SUMMARY	16